web some equations are true for all allowed values and are then called identities example  $\sin^2 \theta + \cos^2 \theta = 1$  is one of the trigonometric identities let's try  $\sin 30^\circ = 0.5$  and  $\sin 90^\circ = 1$  so it is true for  $\theta = 30^\circ$  let's try  $\sin 90^\circ = 1$  and  $\sin 90^\circ = 1$  so it is also true for  $\theta = 90^\circ$  is it true for all values of  $\theta$  web in algebra 1 students solve linear and quadratic equations and learned how the two processes are based on the same logical principles in this unit we extend these processes to solve a greater variety of equations like rational and radical equations we learn that we may sometimes get extraneous solutions web an equation is a statement that two expressions are equal for example the expression  $5^3 + 5^3$  is equal to the expression  $6^2 + 6^2$  because they both equal 88 so we can write the following equation  $5^3 + 5^3 = 6^2 + 6^2$  all equations have an equal sign web equations and formulas what is an equation an equation says that two things are equal it will have an equals sign like this that equations says what is on the left  $x^2$  is equal to what is on the right 6 so an equation is like a statement this equals that note this equation has the solution  $x = 4$  read how to solve equations web free equations calculator solve linear quadratic polynomial radical exponential and logarithmic equations with all the steps type in any equation to get the solution steps and graph upgrade to pro continue to site web equation an equation is a mathematical statement with an equal to symbol between two expressions that have equal values for example  $3x + 5 = 15$  there are different types of equations like linear quadratic cubic etc let us learn web in its simplest form in algebra the definition of an equation is a mathematical statement that shows that two mathematical expressions are equal for instance  $3x + 5 = 14$  is an equation in which  $3x + 5$  and 14 are two expressions separated by an equal sign the most basic and simple algebraic equations consist of one or more variables in math
